DESCRIPTION

IN 2022, THE THEME IS: "Earth in Balance"

- From consumer society to regenerative society - from challenge to opportunity

The world has reached 7.8 billion. Humans spend far more resources each year than the Earth can recreate. Global Footprint Network reports that in 2021, Earth Overshoot Day was already July 29th. The year before, it was almost a month later!

To reverse the trend, there must be a radical change in our way of life. We need to think differently, reorganize resource consumption, production, waste management and recycling. We need to get used to a new reality with an increased focus on climate adaptation and limited resources. To get back in balance, we need to give more back to the Earth than we take; in other words a regenerative approach. It has become clear that energy policy is also security policy, which has actually created momentum to accelerate the green transition in Europe.

This year's Climate Conference focuses on the necessary change, as well as how we can thereby contribute to creating a better globe. The focus is on showing approaches and concrete examples that can inspire and guide the way - this is needed in Denmark and globally!

But can the thoughts be realized in larger contexts? We will challenge the individual presenters to talk about the possibilities for scaling and disseminating project ideas. This is because it is often easier to create new innovative projects than to implement a lasting change that is copied to other areas.
